BIO

Corie Weathers, licensed professional counselor (LPC) and board-certified coach (BCC), is a sought-after speaker, consultant, and author. Corie has focused her career for the last 20 years as a clinician specializing in marriage, the military culture, special forces, and leadership development. She has traveled internationally to visit troops and report on deployment conditions and has taught service families across the globe.

In addition to providing subject matter expertise on military culture, Corie consults organizations and institutions on building trust, creating impactful programming, and working within a multi-generational team. Her advocacy has included being a part of Second Lady Karen Pence's Military Spouse's Employment Working Group and contributing to the passing of a Congressional Bill for licensure portability.
